

Unsubscribe

View in your browser

Hello from Shannon and Kruger du Plessis, Co-Founders of KruShan Foundation

We're off to South Africa for the month of March (our March of Penguins) to work with our partners and the penguins. We'll be sharing across our social media channels while we are there and will provide updates when we return.

We are so grateful to you for supporting our work to protect the critically endangered African penguins from extinction. #NotBy2035

From the Blog

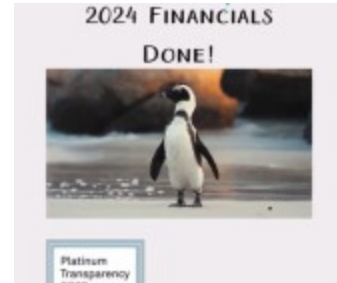

New rules proposed for ship-to-ship refueling to protect penguins, dolphins

Proposed regulations aim to decrease the risks of bunkering to the marine environment, especially the endangered African Penguin species.

When does 1 equal 45?
Every penguin counts.

We've filed our first Form 990-EZ
We've graduated from filing the postcard 990 thanks to generous, caring donors.

How You Can Help

Try to reduce your plastics consumption. Plastic bottles are the worst. Did you know that Evian, spelled backwards is "naive"? Yep! That's what the bottled water company thought when they decided to see if we would pay extra for water that comes in a polluting plastic bottle.

Follow us on our social media channels and share our posts, especially while we are in South Africa in March.

LinkedIn | Instagram | Threads | Facebook | Bluesky

Donate

Fun African Penguin Fact

African penguins hatch from eggs after about 38 days. Our partners incubate lost or abandoned eggs to ensure more African penguins survive.

© 2025 KruShan Foundation, all rights reserved.

We are the only U.S.-based 501(c)(3) nonprofit solely dedicated to protecting African penguins. 🇺🇸❤️